Carlisle Camera Club

Carlisle Camera Club is one of the oldest photography clubs in England. It is a friendly club with members ranging from beginners to distinguished photographers who exhibit internationally.

Our aim is to enable photographers of all abilities to meet, discuss and improve their photography.

New members are always very welcome and you can come along and 'try us out' at no charge. Should you wish to join, the annual subscription is £30, which can be reduced for anyone joining later in the season.

If you're planning to come along for the first time, please arrive at about 7.15, if possible, so we can meet before the evening event begins at 7.30. If you have any questions, or would like more information, you can email us at:

First Meet of Carlisle Amateur Photographic Society at Gell 1885. It is believed that the Society hired a horse drawn waggone for the day. (Reproduced by permission of and with many thanks to Mrs. Dorothy Carruthers.)
